The Association membership covers over 65% market share of the commercial guarding, physical and electronic security and cash-in-transit companies. Also amongst our membership we have a number of property management companies and commercial banks that employ in-house security personnel. They have all benefited from joining us, to ensure the industry standards and services are enhanced and to keep up to date with developments of the industry.

We operate a number of sub-committees that meet on a regular basis and these meetings are the ideal opportunity to voice your opinions and to table ideas for improvements. Our view is that we take responsibility for our industry and work hard to keep it at the forefront of professionalism.

We have extensive connections with international and local exhibitors and event organisers and regularly supports and sponsors international security conferences and events.

The Association was part of the advisory body during the drafting of the Security & Guarding Services Ordinance (SGSO), and has a monitoring role ever since its enactment. The SGSO was drafted and enacted more than 15 years ago and the industry has changed significantly since then. The Association works closely with the authorities to make recommendations and suggested amendments to bridge the gap between the law and advancements to ensure the SGSO keeps track of new trends and developments in standards, training, product development and implementation, along with new technology and products.
